It's probably obvious, but most of the successful and well-respected female Marines choose to be "bitches." I've seen female Marines who chose to be "sluts" get some success (through butt-kissing, acting cutesy, sleeping around, etc.), but never any respect from both male and other female Marines. I think this observation also applies to the civilian sector as well. (^_^,

Also, some female mentors will present a third choice as a joke — to choose to be a lesbian — but I decided not to include that in the comics, because you don't "choose" to be a lesbian, you just are a lesbian. Or not. I have yet to see a person wake up one morning and decide, "I want to be a gay/lesbian." Sexuality isn't a choice. It's just a part of who you are. But that's just my opinion, so if you have a different opinion, please feel free to debate that with your friends offline. Thanks. :)
